Their plans were frustrated when Holloway, Brantley Mitchell, John McCoy, alias "Tex" Wallace, and Mrs. John McCoy, were arrested by police who swooped down on the McCoy residence this morning.

Nolen, according to the police, has admitted that such was Holloway's plan, frustrated because of the circuitous route taken by the officers leaving Nolen's house. As a result, Deggs, Ernest Nolen of the local force, is under suspension because of failure to make known his alleged knowledge of the presence of Holloway in this city. Deggs Nolen is a brother of the detective. Holloway is a cousin.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 16.—Three of the city's leading establishments and more than a hundred offices were destroyed by fire tonight when the Gibson hotel, the Rendigs-Lothau company, a department store, W. L. Douglas Shoe company, and the office of the Missouri Pacific railway were swept completely by the flames while the upper 10 floors of the Union Trust building, a 17-story fireproof structure, was ruined.

Whether there was any loss of life is not determined. The hotel management insists that all the guests were notified in time to get out, while the police are of the opinion that some might have been left in the rooms. It is reported that a number of scrubwomen working on the fifteenth floor of the Union Trust building were overcome by smoke and perished.

The loss is estimated by the management of the Rendigs-Lothau as $350,000; that of the Rendigs-Lothau as $200,000; Douglas Shoe company, $25,000; Missouri Pacific offices, $15,000, and the Union Trust building, $200,000.

shortly after the flames had eaten their way into that structure and despite all efforts, they were unable to reach them and were of the opinion that they had been suffocated to death.

WILLIAMS, Ariz., Dec. 10: In a rear-end collision between a Santa Fe freight train and a stock train here, early today, George Horner and Elmer Beverly, stockmen of Springerville, Ariz., were killed and several trainmen injured, none seriously.

The stock train was on a siding when a freight crashed into the engine, killing Horner and Beverly who were asleep. Traffic was delayed several hours by the accident. It is said the stock train failed to get into the clear for the freight, which was clumsily following.

FORT SMITH, Ark., Dec. 10.—As a climax to the county seat fight in Delaware county, Oklahoma, between the towns of Old and New Jay, a mob of 100 men is reported to have marched into the town of New Jay, where the county officials have established offices, late today, to have taken the county peace officers into custody and assumed control of the town.

Governor Creece has been urged to send a detachment of militia to the scene.

BEE KEEPERS MEET

The personal element is the most important part of our school system today. In order to make education a success, there must be the influence that dominates and does not dominate. A man is just as large as the unit in which he works, and the application is especially to those in educational work.

This was the keynote of the address given last night by Dr. A. B. Winship of Boston, editor of the American Journal of Education and prominent in educational circles in the east, at the third annual conference of the University of Colorado at Springs, at the Antlers hotel, last night. More than 250 guests

LONDON, Dec. 10.—It is learned from official sources by the St. Petersburg correspondent of the Daily Mail that an Austrian army corps to the number of 40,000 men is on a war footing at Lemburg, Cracow, Kaschau, Temesvar and Gratz. The military authorities are arming the people and guarding the railways and bridges on the Russian frontier.

The eighth army corps, the correspondent adds, is ready to take the field.

WINS MINING SUIT

Dispatches were received here yesterday that the United States supreme court has affirmed the decision of the circuit court for the district of Colorado in the now famous Doctor Jack Pot-Work mining case by refusing an application of the latter concern for a writ of certiorari. The suit was started years ago by the Doctor-Jack-Pot, which sought possession of valuable mining property in the Cripple Creek district. The question of damages for ore alleged to have been taken by the Work company and also for ouster next will be tried in the United States district court. UNCLE SAM MAY SUBMIT ENGLISH PROTEST TO THE HAGUE FOR ARBITRATION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Whether Great Britain's protest against free passage of American ships through the Panama canal is to be submitted to the Hague is to be finally determined by the senate, in any event. It was intimated today that President Taft, consistent with his attitude as a principal champion of arbitration of disputes between nations, will recommend such a course should he. Secretary Knox not hold the question a purely domestic and internal one and therefore not arbitrable. There was a considerable leaning to such a view among senators today.

The British government's note was discussed informally by President Taft and his cabinet today, but it was said it would not be taken up formally for several weeks. A suggestion that the question might be kept from arbitration by delay, until the existing arbitration treaty with Great Britain expires by limitation next June, was repudiated today by a number of senators. Senator Lodge, a prominent member of the foreign relations committee, declared that "the United States would not stoop to tricks." Senator Fothergill declared the question purely a domestic one and therefore not subject to arbitration.

WEALTHIEST WOMAN IN MONT. SENT TO PRISON

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Dec. 10.—Maggie Ann France of Douglas, famed as the wealthiest woman in Wyoming, and noted for her philanthropy, was convicted of violating the Mann act in the federal court here today and sentenced to one year at Leavenworth penitentiary in Kansas by Judge Riker. At her first trial, the jury disagreed. The jury found a verdict in her second trial today within 15 minutes. Maggie Ann France, beside her establishment in Douglas, operates an extensive ranch.

AMERICANS DID NOT AID MADERO REVOLT

Fifteen Per Cent Increase for Customs Duties Has Been Declared

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Testimony that the Mexican revolutionists who overthrew President Diaz received no aid directly or indirectly through American sources was given today by Sherburne E. Hopkins, formerly legal adviser of the Madero revolutionary commission in Washington in 1911-12, before the senate committee investigating whether American interests incited rebellion in that country.

This information was elicited from Mr. Hopkins through questions by members of the committee designed to ascertain whether the Standard Oil company or the Waters-Pierce Oil company gave assistance to Madero. The witness denied that either of these interests had contributed, and said the revolution was financed only by the wealthy Madero family and Mexican citizens.

Mr. Hopkins told the committee his connection with the movement was only of a legal and diplomatic nature. As to the purchase of arms and munitions of war and their shipment to the revolutionists, Mr. Hopkins said he had nothing to do with this phase. He denied that any loans were floated in the interests of the movement. Mr. Hopkins said he had no direct or indirect interest in any Mexican concessions.

Increase in Customs Duties.

EL PASO, Tex., Dec. 10.—Violent protests in the north, and perhaps throughout the republic, are expected to result from a 15 per cent customs increase on all dutiable articles entering the republic after January 1. Customs officials at Juarez today announced the raise, which alone lacks the sanction of congress, already having been recommended by Ernesto Madero, secretary of the treasury. The news caused some excitement at this point, which is supplying the revolution belt since the interruption of traffic from the south.

The 15 per cent raise covers clothing, hardware and some foodstuffs, already taxed heavily. It is in addition to a 5 per cent increase effective last October, making a total raise of 20 per cent in less than a year. The 5 per cent raise caused some disturbances at the time, and the effect of the larger increase is viewed with misgiving by military and civil officials.

It is understood that the radical raise in the customs is made necessary by the continued revolution which has taxed the government finances to a critical extent. It is believed to result from the recent failure of Mexico to negotiate a Parisian loan, and from the continued appeals of some cabinet members for a larger army to put down the continuing revolutionary movement in many states of the republic.

BANDITS MADE ESCAPE IN AUTO: DIVIDED LOOT

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., Dec. 10.—It was learned today that the bandits who escaped from the Sunset Western express train last night with $20,000 in gold taken from the iron safety box after they had beaten M. W. Hamby, messenger, into insensibility, were driven away in an automobile, which had been hidden in a thicket near the railroad track. They drove to an isolated spot and there divided the money. It is believed they then came to Bakersfield and are in hiding here. Hamby is slowly recovering from the effects of the blow dealt him by the robbers.

FIRE BREAKS OUT IN MINE AT BUTTE, MONT.

BUTTE, Mont., Dec. 10.—Fire broke out between the 1,500 and the 1,700-foot levels of the Stewart mine, belonging to the Anaconda Mining company, today, and late tonight is still burning. Mine officials say all of the miners were taken out before the fire had gained any headway. The fire is supposed to have caught from candles carried by miners.

ENGLISH WARSHIP SINKS SMALL CRAFT

Unknown Steamer Plunges to Bottom of Sea in Short Time

DEVONPORT, England, Dec. 10.—The British dreadnaught Centurion, while speeding 20 knots off Portland Bill, before dawn today, ran down and sank a small unknown steamer. The battleship returned to port this afternoon, leaking badly and with a battered bow.

The steamer tried to cross the bows of the warship, which struck her well forward with such force that the steamer's port light was found still burning after the collision on the Centurion's forecastle.

Before the steamer cleared the battleship's smoke, she sank and no trace of her could be found, although boats were lowered and the Centurion cruised about until long after dawn.

The steamer plunged to the bottom so quickly that the crew of the battleship could not determine whether she was a tramp or a passenger ship.

The bows of the battleship were damaged by the anchor being driven through the plates.

LOCAL OPTION LOSES IN SAN FRANCISCO?

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 10.—Incomplete returns from today's charter amendment election indicate the overwhelming defeat of the district local option plan, under which it was proposed to enable certain units in the residential districts to vote independently upon the question of banishing saloons.

The measure providing for the doubling of the fire department force, in order to give the men two shifts of 12 hours each, appears to have carried by a narrow margin. Only 55,000 votes, a little over half the total of the November election, were cast.

ALBUQUERQUE VOTES BONDS AT ELECTION

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Dec. 10.—At a special election held here today, bonds aggregating the principal sum of $100,000 were voted for the erection of a new high school building. The issue was ratified by a vote of 39 to 1, the majority being 747 out of a total vote cast of 752.

Breach of Promise Suit Is Over When Husband Walks in

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—A $20,000 breach of promise suit was brought to a halt today here when the "dead husband" of Mrs. Helen Cauley, plaintiff against David A. Sherard, a wealthy truckman, was brought into court very much alive.

The woman had just testified that her husband died in December, 1903, in a railroad wreck.

As a result of her testimony a charge of perjury was lodged against her. The husband, Andrew J. Cauley, who seemed to be puzzled, testified he had breakfasted with her at her apartments only this morning.

"When did you first hear of this case?" asked Mrs. Cauley's lawyer.

"I have not heard of any case. I got some tickets to come down here and showed them to my wife, but she did not know what they were for. She left the house this morning and said she had an engagement."

Mrs. Cauley, who is a trained nurse, alleged in her suit that Sherard had won her heart while she nursed him in a hospital here and had promised to marry her.

TWO KILLED, THREE INJURED IN WRECK

RENO, Nev., Dec. 10.—Two men were killed and three badly injured today, near Granite Point, 30 miles west of Lovelock, in an accident on a work train bearing a gang of section laborers.

The killed: FOREMAN JOHN GILDAY of the section gang, living at Toy; GREEK LABORER, name unknown. Injured: Section Foreman A. McLain of Orona section; leg cut off.

Two Greeks, badly crushed; names unknown.

A steel rail, forming part of a load used on the work car, fell from the car while it was in motion. Acting as a lever, it swept and crushed the men on the car. Two men were thrown under the wheels of the car and crushed.

SEARCH WOMAN'S HOME FOR EVIDENCE OTHER CRIMES

LANSING, Mich., Dec. 10.—The alleged confession in jail today of Mrs. Mary Lucas, a widow of a former Nebraska attorney, that she killed her husband, Mrs. Pauline Fingel, with poison last Friday night, caused the officers to make an investigation in the Lucas home for possible evidence in connection with the disappearance of a Lansing contractor. A quantity of quick lime was discovered in the cellar.

According to officers, Carl Miller, the contractor, was last seen in the Lucas home here, a little more than a year ago. The police say that Mrs. Lucas's husband died two years ago under mysterious circumstances. His body was found in a bathtub in their home.

It is alleged that jealousy and robbery were the motives for the Fingel crime.

that in the dispute with Serbia, the Austrian government will take up the consular question before the ambassadorial conference meets, and as soon as the new Serbian minister, M. Jovanovich, reaches Vienna; other subjects will be broached, among them, it is reported, a demand for a reduction in the present strength of the Serbian army, on the ground that such a big army is no longer needed, as the oppressed Slavs in Turkey have now been freed, and its maintenance in its existing strength would be a menace to Austria.

Great Conflagration Possible.

BUCHAREST, Dec. 10.—In a published interview, Dr. Danef, the Bulgarian peace delegate, said, in reference to the change in the military command at Vienna:

"There is no cause for alarm as long as the powers are in agreement and Serbia is ready to recognize the interests of others. But if, as is hardly probable, the powers should be unable to arrive at an agreement, it will be, not an Austro-Serbia conflict, but a conflagration which the whole world, and particularly the Balkan league, wishes to avoid."

Will Present Note to Serbia.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—A Vienna dispatch says Prague newspapers publish messages from Vienna, saying the Austrian minister at Belgrade has been instructed to present a note to Serbia tomorrow, couched in sharp terms, inquiring how Serbia proposes to bring her policy into line with that of Austria. The note, however, is not to be regarded as an ultimatum.

SAVES BABY SISTER
BUT GIVES OWN LIFE

TOULDE, Mich., Dec. 10.—A rare example of childish forethought was given today by eight-year-old Pearl Skinner before her death from burns. She was singing her baby sister to sleep in front of a stove when a live coal landed on her dress. Although pleading for an instant the little girl laid the baby carefully upon a chair and called to her mother to care for it before running into the yard and plunging into the snow. She lived but a short time.

GEN. SICKLES ASKS EXTENTION IN TIME

State Comptroller Calls for an Accounting of Funds From Aged Man

ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 10.—Efforts on the part of State Comptroller Schaner to obtain from General Daniel Sickles an accounting for certain funds paid him by the state as chairman of the New York monument commission having been unsuccessful, the comptroller has placed the matter in the hands of Attorney General Carmody. The amount unaccounted for, according to the comptroller, is $29,246.

Correspondence made public today shows that efforts to obtain an accounting from General Sickles have been made from time to time since 1910. After a conference with the comptroller, the attorney general (Carmody) notified General Sickles on November 21, notified General Sickles that "under no circumstances will an extension of time for this settlement be granted beyond December 6."

Not having heard from General Sickles by December 6, the comptroller wrote Attorney General Carmody that a "shortage of $29,246 existed," and referred the matter "for such action as you may deem necessary."

On December 7 the comptroller received a letter from General Sickles asking a further brief extension of time.

"I beg your kind indulgence until December 20," he wrote, "when I am confident I shall be able to obtain a loan on my three houses and lots on the corner of Fifth Avenue and Ninth street."

Attorney General Carmody advised Comptroller Schaner to grant the extension.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—General Anson G. Metcalf, a member of the New York monument commission, speaking tonight of the call upon General Sickles for an accounting said:

"So far as the money part of it is concerned, we have every reason to believe the state is fully protected."

Americans Render Great Service to Balkan Sufferers

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 10.—The American ambassador and Mrs. W. W. Rockhill will leave shortly for Rome. They had intended leaving here two months ago but were delayed by the war.

The ambassador has expressed the belief that the peace conference at London will reach an amicable settlement and for this reason he is satisfied to start for the United States. Hoffman Phillips will remain as charge d'affaires, and also will have control of the balance of the American Red Cross fund, which amounted altogether to nearly $40,000.

As Lady Lowther's fund, which amounts to $50,000, is being distributed in Constantinople, the American ambassador has placed a large portion of the American fund in the hands of the American missionaries along the Bagdad railway for distribution among the refugees who deserted the Thracian villages.

Refugees Arrive.
Many thousands of refugees have arrived at the head of the railway and trainloads continue to leave Constantinople daily. Although the government distributes bread to the refugees inside and around the city of Constantinople, it is doubtful whether any measures have been taken to supply those who have been transferred to the interior.

The Americans seem to be the only persons assisting in the interior. Dr. W. S. Dodd and his wife, whom the ambassador and Mrs. Rockhill brought to Constantinople to organize a hospital corps, are now able to leave the hospital entirely in the hands of the British workers with whom they have been associated.

The number of Red Cross attendants having been augmented recently, Dr. and Mrs. Dodd have returned to Konia, which is their mission field, with a large sum of money at their disposal to aid the refugees in tiding over the winter.

Funds Are Distributed.
Members of the American embassy who speak the Turkish language are assisting Lady Lowther's committee in distributing her fund to the families of soldiers and the refugees in Constantinople.

The San Stefano cholera camp is being financed by American Red Cross funds. The ambassador telegraphed to Washington asking for an extension of Major Surgeon Ford's leave which was granted. Dr. Ford will remain in the cholera camp, which remains in a horrible condition. The few foreigners are able to care for only a few hundred, while the camp, despite the death of thousands, still contains several thousand patients, because of the new contingents constantly arriving.

The foreign naval organization for the protection of Europeans and Americans terminated with the signing of the armistice, whereupon Commander Frank B. Upham, of the United States station ship Scorpion,

Verdict Rendered Half Century Ago May Be Reversed

PARIS, Dec. 10.—An effort to obtain the revision of the trial of Madame Lafarge, society woman who was sentenced to imprisonment for life in 1846 for the murder of her husband by poisoning him with arsenic, is to be made by a powerful committee of scientists, writers and politicians which has just been formed.

The case of Madame Lafarge was very similar to that of Mrs. Mary Surratt. It caused a great sensation at the time. The conviction was based principally on the evidence of the great chemist, M. J. Berthollet, who gave to the present of arsenic in the dead man's body. Another leading scientist of the period, Francois Raspail, happened to Tulle, where the trial took place, in order to declare to the jury that "Arsenic was present in all bodies, but he arrived too late."

Raspail's contention is supported to some extent by later experiments carried out by Armand Gautier and Prof. Gabriel Bertrand who just completed a series of studies showing incontrovertibly that arsenic exists in a general way in every living organism, and further, that the methods hitherto employed to test the presence of arsenic in bodies had the effect of introducing arsenic into those bodies.

Madame Lafarge died in 1853, two years after she had been pardoned by Napoleon III.

COUPLE FOUND DEAD IN DENVER HOTEL

DENVER, Dec. 10.—D. C. Johnson and wife were found dead in bed at their hotel today with bullet wounds in their heads. The couple, who came here recently from Hutchinson, Kan., were last seen alive Saturday. The police believe it a case of murder and suicide.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Johnson, Hutchinson, Kan., appearing at the hotel register is the only information in the possession of the police, the couple apparently having destroyed all means of possible identification.

The authorities believe that death occurred some time Saturday, the day they were last seen alive. When detectives today broke into the room they found Johnson, still clasping a .38-caliber revolver, lying across the foot of the bed in which his wife lay. It is believed that Johnson killed his wife and then shot himself.

A search by detectives disclosed some papers indicating that Johnson was the inventor of the "Excel" tie plate and rail brake.

HUTCHINSON, Kan., Dec. 10.—D. C. Johnson was widely known in this vicinity. For 20 years he was a conductor on the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad, leaving the service of that company 10 years ago. He was the first conductor on the Jetmore branch of the road, and was so well known to patrons that his train came to be known as "Johnson's train."

After leaving the railway service he went into the real estate and brokerage business. Six months ago he sold his business and home here and went to Denver, following the refusal of the local board of trade to admit him as a member on the ground that he was not a grain dealer.

SMASHED MACHINES OF RIVAL CONCERNS

Witnesses Relate Alleged Facts in Connection With Cash Register Suit

CINCINNATI, Dec. 10.—New witnesses in the suit between the National Cash Register Co. and the American Time & Clock Co. today testified that they had seen the machines of the latter company smashed at the factory of the National Cash Register Co. on April 1, 1912.

The case examination of the alleged second National Cash Register Co. machine smashed at the same time. Some of the National Cash Register Co. witnesses testified that they had seen the machines of the American Time & Clock Co. smashed at the factory of the National Cash Register Co. on April 1, 1912.

Edward Castle, a witness, and E. T. Hutchinson, a witness, both of the American Time & Clock Co., testified that they had seen the machines of the National Cash Register Co. smashed at the factory of the National Cash Register Co. on April 1, 1912.

Agencies Followed Him.
Agents of the National Cash Register Co. followed the American Time & Clock Co. machine after it had been purchased by E. T. Hutchinson, former agent for the American Time & Clock Co., the National Cash Register Co. had offered him $500 a year to work for the National Cash Register Co. and had told him that the National Cash Register Co. would be out of the business in a few months.

A. Z. Salinger, of Los Angeles, said he was told by the California district attorney that the National Cash Register Co. was going to wipe the National Cash Register Co. out of the business.

During the morning session, J. W. Brownhall, of Los Angeles, completed his cross-examination of the American Time & Clock Co. machine after it had been purchased by E. T. Hutchinson, former agent for the American Time & Clock Co., the National Cash Register Co. had offered him $500 a year to work for the National Cash Register Co. and had told him that the National Cash Register Co. would be out of the business in a few months.

again to be trusted by men who believe in honesty. We stand for every principle set forth in our platform. We stand for the purging of the roll of American public life by driving out of politics the big bosses who thwart the popular will, who rely on corruption as a political instrument, and who waste the cause of progress.

Continued Campaign.

But the function of the new party is not limited to securing the enactment of the measures advocated in the new party's platform and the retirement of a few bosses. Our purpose is to keep up a continuous campaign for social and industrial justice and for genuine government by the people and for the people. Such a campaign cannot be expected from any party which is purely reactionary, and at their best, both of the old parties are partly and they are usually dominantly reactionary.

The immediate work for our party is to establish the principle of our platform by appropriate legislation in the nation and in the several states. In the national legislature Progressive senators and congressmen should push the various Progressive proposals not only those affecting labor but that affecting the trusts.

Mr. Roosevelt renewed his proposal to create a commission like the Interstate Commerce Commission to supervise the big industrial concerns doing interstate business.

He continued: "I trust the Progressive senators and congressmen at Washington will get together and push this and all other proposals of the Progressive party. I hope, moreover, that each group of Progressive members of the legislature shall make a plan of their own organization of their respective assemblies, upon the candidates for the United States senate and upon proposed legislation. We should support

SAFE REMEDY ENDS CATARRH MISERIES

Safe Remedy Cures Catarrh and Cold in the Head.

The quickest, best and safest way to cure catarrh of the head is by using a remedy that will "touch the spot" and do its work quickly without leaving any bad effects. Ely's Cream Balm, which is applied to the nostrils or rubbed on the throat or chest, gets right at the root of the trouble and instantly relieves even the worst case of catarrh or cold. A few minutes after applied you can feel a loosening up in the head, the pain and soreness are gone, the sense of taste, smell and hearing come back and you feel like a different person.

Ely's Cream Balm cleanses, heals and strengthens the inflamed membrane, takes away that stuffed up feeling and dull pain in the head, relieves the throat soreness and stops the nasty discharge which is the cause of the disgusting hawking, spitting, blowing of the nose and foul breath. Hay fever victims who are made miserable by fits of sneezing, coughing and wheezing get instant and permanent relief by the use of this simple remedy. Don't suffer another minute. Ely's Cream Balm will relieve you immediately, and a 50 cent bottle will more than likely work a complete cure. All druggists sell it. Agents, The Hobbs Drug Co.

legislation that will carry out our principles regardless of what party may introduce it in the several states. Pure financing should receive the consideration it deserves. The great field for farm conservation will be in marketing their products which process now costs them and the consumer so dearly. The largest measure of financial aid would come from mortgage banks chartered, regulated and carefully supervised by the government operating on the method of the Credit Farmers of France.

Will of People Rules.

Our people and especially our Progressive members, must keep in mind that the Progressive party is by its platform committed to the doctrine that these measures we advocate are to become part of the law of the land, provided we can get the people to enact them. If legislator, executive or court stands in the way, then, in lawful and orderly fashion, and along the lines laid down in the national Progressive platform, we intend to see that the will of the people is carried out; and that judge, legislator and executive officer alike, do their full part in thus carrying out the will of the people. No party that denies to the people the right to secure justice as we Progressives propose, when the court interprets the constitution so as to enshrine injustice, has the right to claim credit for sincerity in any effort to work for industrial and social justice. All other measures are useless, if we permit a body that which is not responsible to the people to have the final say as to whether the people shall or shall not in their laws do complete social and industrial justice. In the matter of leadership, both local and national, we may trust the events of the next year or two to develop our ablest and most successful men, and for every position the leader must be chosen not in the least with reference to his own desires, but solely with regard to the needs of the people, for the Progressive party is the servant of the people.

No man should come into this party with the idea that he can establish a claim on it. He must be content with the opportunity it offers for service and for sacrifice.

our reputation of the conduct of that court.

Court is Reactionary. Mind you, the court is acting as the instrument of reaction. The court is doing all it can to prevent the establishment in Idaho of the only party that stands for the genuine right of the people to rule themselves, and the action taken is an action against the people of the United States, not only against the people of Idaho, but against the people of the United States. "The people of the United States should, with one voice, join in condemning what has been done and prevent the consummation of the outrage."

Colonel Roosevelt's discussion of the Idaho case was received with cheering that lasted for several minutes. Mr. Perkins in his speech predicted a brilliant future for the party, and then proceeded to answer his critics who have accused him of being a "new Progressive."

Prolonged cheering followed Mr. Perkins' speech. "He's the man that put the Progressive party on its feet," one man shouted. The appearance of Mrs. Maude Howe Elliott, who is a daughter of the late Julia Ward Howe, author of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," was a signal for tremendous applause. Mrs. Elliott told of a vision her mother had a short time before her death, in which she saw women and men enjoying equal rights.

"I firmly believe that my mother saw the coming of the new Progressive party," she said.

G. O. P. on Last Legs.

Colonel Roosevelt speaking tonight at the dinner of the delegates to the conference, declared that the Republican administration was spending its last days in punishing small postmasters and postmistresses who had joined the Progressive cause.

"Never has there been a more ignominious ending to a once great political party," Colonel Roosevelt said. "It's after election. The administration is safe from everything but incurring the heavy contempt of all good men and all good women. It could not get at any of the big people and so the administration is working out its spite on the small ones."

"Could anything be more contemptible than the administration persecution of Mrs. Helen Longstreet, the widow of General Longstreet, who has been a Georgia postmistress and who had the courage and high mindedness to endorse the things for which the Progressive party stands?"

Beginning with the Ninth Alabama district, Colonel Roosevelt reviewed the districts from which he asserted delegates had been stolen in the Republican convention. Then he said that in each one of these districts, the people had taken the matter into their own hands and had rolled up decisive pluries against the Republican ticket. "It's difficult to make comparisons in wickedness," the colonel said, "but the highest eminence of infamy was

BOLAND PLANNED ARCHBALD TRAP

ADMITS HE CONSPIRED TO "GET" JURIST

Got Information of Dealings From Associates of the Judge

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—William P. Boland of Scranton, Pa., the man charged by Judge Robert W. Archbald of the commerce court with having organized a conspiracy that resulted in Judge Archbald's impeachment and his present trial before the senate, admitted today that he had suggested the various steps by which Judge Archbald was connected with the deal for the Katydid refuse coal dump, in order to "check up Judge Archbald."

"I wanted to button up Judge Archbald," he said shaking his finger at the accused jurist, who sat in front of him. "I wanted to show he was the kind of a man he is."

These admissions were interspersed with the vigorous denunciation of Judge Archbald by Mr. Boland as a corrupt judge and charlatan that Judge Archbald had been working for the railroads.

Makes Sweeping Charges.

Repeated demands were made by Judge Archbald's attorney that Mr. Boland be required to answer questions directly, but notwithstanding cautions from Senator Bacon, presiding, he embodied in his replies sweeping charges against Judge Archbald and frank admissions that he set out to get hold of everything he could lay hands on to "show up" Judge Archbald.

The testimony of Boland centered chiefly about the case of the Marion Coal company, of which they were chief owners, embraced in the second article of impeachment. Mr. Boland said he believed Judge Archbald had used his influence to attempt to bring about a settlement of the case between the Marion Coal company and the Lackawanna railroad.

He admitted he had told Attorney General Wickersham and members of the interstate commerce commission that he believed Judge Archbald had overruled the demerit of the Marion Coal company because Boland had refused to discount Judge Archbald's note. When pressed for evidence to prove this, Mr. Boland said he had been repeatedly told by E. J. Williams, the associate of Judge Archbald in coal lands operations, that it would have been "better for him" if he had discounted the note.

Checked Up Judge.

"Where did you get your information about Judge Archbald?" Attorney Worthington asked.

"Mr. Williams would tell me what was going to happen and would tell me of the influences behind Judge Archbald," Boland replied. "Then I began to check up the judge. I got information from his associates as to what he was doing for the railroads."

"Did you send E. J. Williams to get Judge Archbald to write a letter to W. A. May, urging that they give Mr. Williams an option on the Katydid dump?" Mr. Worthington asked.

"Yes, I did," Mr. Boland answered. "I wanted to check up Judge Archbald."

"Did you afterwards suggest to Williams that he get Judge Archbald to go to New York to see the Erie officials?"

"I think I did," Boland admitted.

reached in the state of Washington and there we beat the Republicans worse than anywhere else. Although they had money, newspapers and the organization, we beat them two to one, three to one, four to one and in some they had stolen delegates in the Chicago convention."

DENY FORMATION EXPLOSION PLOT

CONTRADIOT WITNESS WITH HIS LETTER

Ross Was Called to Union Meeting and Accused of Being Spy

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 10.—Testimony by Robert G. M. Ross, that officials of various trades unions in Detroit, in June, 1910, formed a plot to cause a series of explosions in that city against nonunion jobs, and that Charles Wachmeister, business agent of the Iron Workers' union, received $100 from the carpenters' union toward the expense, but that explosions were postponed because Wachmeister "talked too much," was disputed by witnesses at the dynamiting conspiracy trial today.

Ross said that, after Wachmeister had "talked too much," he dictated to William H. Quigley a letter to William Cline, Mine, and organizer for the carpenters' union, calling off the explosions. Quigley today denied he ever had written the letter, and when the government produced what purported to be the letter, Quigley said it was not in his handwriting.

"Flashing the Century."

The letter said that Wachmeister had been drinking and was "flashing the century," meaning a $100 bill, alleged to have been paid him for explosions.

Previously Ross said he had been called to a meeting of union officials and asked if he were a spy for the nonunion contractors.

Several other witnesses, who said they were present at the meeting, refused to be cross-examined by Ross' testimony that the union officials met because they "were frightened."

Ross Apologized.

"Ross came to that meeting and we asked him why he had been circulating reports that we were going to be arrested," Quigley said. "He apologized, and we asked him how he was making out living. He declared a congressman was paying him to do political work."

Wachmeister testified he never had received $75 as a part of a fund to pay for explosions, and he never had a "black eye," as it was said, he received for "talking too much."

He said he and Hockin had visited a non-union job in an effort to have it unionized, but he knew nothing of explosions.

"Did you ever hear of Hockin being arrested in connection with an explosion in Detroit, in June, 1907?" asked District Attorney Miller.

"I never heard of it," Wachmeister replied.

as much as we are interested in their grades and progress in their studies," said the speaker.

Dr. Winslow took up in detail the attacks that have been made recently upon modern educational methods by a number of periodicals, refuting point by point arguments of educators who claim that the education of today is a failure. The speaker defined the writers to show any cause for their complaints, and declared that they have some ax to grind, or some new scheme that they want to force on the public, or are merely seeking publicity.

"It's all tommyrot," added the speaker.

Dr. Winslow took occasion to compliment the teachers on the banquet, especially the representative educational gathering that was present.

"I have attended banquets all over the country, but I have never attended a more enjoyable one between the two oceans," he said.

FEW MEN CONTROL

which money was attracted to New York when small country farmers and merchants demand money for the movement of crops or the accommodation of their business affairs. Mr. Frew said that the money was needed on the New York Stock exchange for speculative purposes; that country banks kept large sums on deposit in New York; that, "Bugs," when the "hang" demand for money became strong, the New York price for money rose, and the New York banks, in order to gain the big interest charges, put their money out on call loans on the New York Stock exchange. All these loans are based on stock exchange collateral, Mr. Untermyer eluded.

Mr. Untermyer and the witness did not get along well together today, and all day the colloquy between the two repeated became heated. Mr. Frew insisted upon making long exchanges which led the discussion far from the line of questioning Mr. Untermyer was pursuing. When Mr. Untermyer endeavored to attribute the enormous growth of the Bankers Trust company to the influence of J. E. Morgan & Co., Mr. Frew objected, and the lawyer grew bitter.

Admits "Morgan Influence."

He finally pinned the witness down to the admission that "the Morgan influence" might have aided the company.

Mr. Untermyer connected Messrs. Davidson, Cass and Porter with the Morgan company. Mr. Frew demanded the opportunity to make certain explanations as to his position in regard to the clearing house provision that New York banks must charge a uniform rate for the collection of out-of-town checks. Mr. Untermyer said the clearing house ought just as well provide a uniform rate of interest on deposits as is done

UGH! NOT CALOMEL, OIL OR SALTS, BUT DELICIOUS "SYRUP OF FIGS"

Give Your Stomach, Liver and 30 Feet of Bowels a Thorough Cleansing Without Gripe or Nausea. Ends Headache, Bilioussness, Indigestion and Constipation

This wonderful fruit laxative acts as a liver and bowel cleanser—tonic—not as an irritant. Its action is natural and gentle—no gripping. It is delicious—no dreading. It is positive and prompt—no waiting.

If your stomach is sour and filled with vile gases, your head aches, or you are bilious, nervous, dizzy, half sick, your tongue coated, your thirty feet of bowels clogged with waste not properly carried off—don't wait. Surely take a teaspoonful of delicious Syrup of Figs tonight, and in the morning all constipated waste, sour bile, gases and poisons will move on and out of the system, gently but thoroughly—no gripping—no nausea—no weakness. In the old days people let these matters run until they needed a large dose of physic, then they took something severe like castor oil, salts or cathartics, that meant abuse to the bowels. These are the days of the gentle and natural—the days of Syrup of Figs. This way you are not dragging yourself. Syrup of Figs being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics can not cause injury.

Ask your druggist for "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," and look for the name, California Fig Syrup Company, on the label. "This is the genuine—old reliable." Any other so-called Fig Syrup is an imitation often meant to deceive you. Refuse such with contempt.

CANNING FACTORY CHILD WORKERS OF NEW YORK

The factory investigating committee, created by the state legislature, has announced that it is rapidly finishing its work and will soon present at least 33 remedial bills. Of these the one which is regarded as most important by the commission deals with the employment of women and children in the canneries. The primary object of the bill will be to remedy the shocking conditions at present prevalent in the canneries, where children of tender years are forced to work almost continuously for nearly 16 hours a day.

under the rules of the Salt Lake City clearing house.

Mr. Frew said: "This should be stopped," but defended the out-of-town collection rate rule.

The committee ordered Mr. Frew to submit his request in writing, and probably he will be allowed to resume the stand tomorrow to make a further statement.

Tomorrow the committee will take up the New York Stock exchange and representatives of that organization will be asked to testify.

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 10.—Frederick Goodrich, E. M. Marsh and T. E. Marsh, who were arrested here last Thursday when the police broke into their rooms and confiscated paraphernalia alleged to be used by wire tappers, were fined $500 apiece in the municipal court today.

They were given a stay of execution on condition that they leave town. They left for Denver tonight.

REFUSE SUPERSEDEAS IN FREDERICK CITY ELECTION

DENVER, Dec. 10.—The state supreme court today refused to grant a supersedeas in the case involving the outcome of the town election in Frederick last spring which hinged on the vote of B. F. Davis, a crippled man who was wheeled to the polls in an invalid's chair.

Davis' chair was so large that it could not be taken through the door and after he had marked his ballot it was deposited in the box by one of the judges.

The result of the election was taken into the county court and the vote of Davis thrown out. The ballot cast by Mrs. Axline Deboutier, who on a recent trip to France married a native of that country, also was thrown out. As a result the Citizens' ticket apparently was elected and the Peoples' candidates appealed to the court. Today the case was placed on the calendar for hearing.

DR. PRICE'S CREAM Baking Powder

Purity in food, lower cost of living these are the demands of the day.

Pure food is health, and health is economy itself. We cannot have health without healthful food.

The most healthful foods are the quickly raised flour foods biscuit, cake, muffins, crusts and other pastry, when perfectly made from wholesome ingredients.

Dr. PRICE'S baking powder makes these foods in specially attractive, appetizing and wholesome form, and for both economic and hygienic reasons, such food should be more largely substituted for meat in the daily diet.

But bear in mind that alum, or unwholesome baking powder, can never make pure, wholesome food.

HEAVY INSURANCE BEING PLACED IN WAR ZONE

LONDON, Dec. 10.—An enormous amount of insurance covering risks of war and civil commotion has been effected during the past few days on property on the Russian frontier dividing Russia from Austria-Hungary. Underwriters in London are astonished at the flow of business which they describe as the most extensive placed in connection with any crisis. Buildings connected with the oil and lumber and brewery trades in Austria-Hungary have been insured for large amounts and yesterday orders were still pouring in. One risk alone represented $1,250,000. Most of the business was placed at 1 1/2 per cent for three months, 2 per cent for five months and 3 1/2 per cent for six months.

A total of $4,000,000 in prizes was awarded at various horse shows in the United States and Canada last year.

"Pape's Diapepsin" Settles Upset Stomachs and Ends Indigestion in Five Minutes

Do some foods you eat but back taste good but work badly? Turned into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now Mr. or Mrs. Dyapepsin get this down. Pape's Diapepsin digests everything leaving nothing to sour and upset you. There never was anything so safe, quick so certainly effective. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered you will get happy relief in five minutes, but what is more, it most is that it strengthens and builds up your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies get you relief sometimes they do not. But not sure Diapepsin is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back. You feel different when Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach. Diapepsin just goes in, your stomach gets sweet no gas, no belching, no flatulencies, no undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine. Go now, make the best investment you ever made by a thing, a large, fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You get it in five minutes, how needless is to suffer from indigestion, heartburn, or any stomach disorder.

Express Companies Are Unable to Figure Out Parcels Post System

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—The executive officers of the big express companies are watching the parcels post system with great interest until they frankly confess that they do not know what it will do to their business. It is not that they do not know what it will do to their business, but that they do not know what it will do to their business. It is not that they do not know what it will do to their business, but that they do not know what it will do to their business.

It seems to be a pretty unfair to compel us to change rates at a time when the express companies are in a position to put a powerful competitor in the field against us. Mr. Hines is of the opinion that the parcels post system is a very serious threat to the express companies. He is of the opinion that the parcels post system is a very serious threat to the express companies.

STATE PAYS LAST TRIBUTE RESPECT TO MRS. WELLS

DENVER, Dec. 10.—The tribute of the state of Colorado to its citizens was paid today to the life and work of Mrs. Julia Wells, who died suddenly on Saturday. From 12 to 1 o'clock in the body of Mrs. Wells lay in the state cemetery of the capital surrounded by a guard composed of women associated with Mrs. Wells in her educational and philanthropic work of the last 20 years. This is the second time a woman of Colorado has been so honored. The first was Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker who died last summer while attending a woman's club convention in San Francisco. The funeral services of Mrs. Wells were scheduled for 2 o'clock this afternoon.

GIVEN 10,000 SHARES TO BECOME A DIRECTOR

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Herbert D. Sayre, professor of mathematics in the University of Alabama, testified today in the trial of Julian Hawthorne, Josiah Quincy and others charged with fraudulent use of the mails to promote Canadian mining projects that he had been a member of the "advisory committee" of the Hawthorne Silver and Iron Mines Co.

"Mr. Hawthorne asked me to serve," he explained, and he sent me a certificate for 10,000 shares of stock and a certificate for a $5 dividend on Temagami-Cobalt stock.

"When did you cease to be a member of the committee?" "I really don't know. I sent back the certificate of stock in November, 1911, after having it since early in 1910. I never attended a meeting of the committee and never was notified to attend any."

John McKinnon, former secretary-treasurer of various Hawthorne concerns, testified that public subscriptions to Temagami-Cobalt stock amounted to $400,000. He said most of this was turned over to the Continental Syndicate but $75,000 went "technically" for exploration and development, while $14,000 was paid to Dr. Morton one of the defendants.

The cash in the treasuries on December 9, 1909, the day McKinnon resigned as treasurer, he gave as follows: Temagami-Cobalt company, $472,000; Lake-Cobalt, $27,850; Montreal Elks company, $26,817.

"BRIDGIE" WEBBER NOW TELLS DIFFERENT STORY

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—"Bridgie" Webber, one of the four informers whose testimony convicted Charles Becker and the four gunmen of the murder of Herman Rosenthal, returned from Havana today, and issued a statement repudiating in many respects the story he told on the witness stand. Today he said there was no plot to murder Rosenthal. On the other hand, he said, the gunmen went to the Hotel Metropole to frighten the gambler, but two of them got drunk and the fatal shooting resulted.

Webber appeared nervous, but said that he had no fear for his life. He said he never would have confessed if Jack Rose had not "squealed." He added that he was haunted with the thought of the four gunmen being in the death house and was unable to sleep nights.

"Rose," he said, "kept coming the gunmen along as to how strong Becker was, with the idea of getting them keyed up to throw a scare into Herman." The plan was to frighten Rosenthal so he would not go to the district attorney. "Rose did say to the gunmen, 'Why, you could croak Rosenthal anywhere and Becker could fix it' but that did not mean that they should croak him. It simply was meant to impress on them that Becker was so strong in the police department he could even square a murderer."

JURY SAYS DR. RUSTIN

DID NOT KILL HIMSELF

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 10.—A legal verdict that Dr. Frederick Rustin of Omaha was murdered by some person unidentified and did not commit suicide, was rendered today in the Kentucky court of appeals, when it held that accident insurance companies in which Rustin held policies must pay. The insurance with interest now amounts to about $33,000.

Dr. Rustin was found dying on the porch of his home in Omaha the night of September 2, 1908. (Omitted over the insurance centered around an alleged suicide pact between Dr. Rustin and an Omaha woman. The suit was filed in Louisville upon agreement of the parties. A jury decided Dr. Rustin did

MAN'S SKULL SO HARD BULLET IS DEFLECTED

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 10.—Charles Smith, a mechanic, intercepted a revolver bullet with his forehead ear today in an encounter with a highway man. Not only made him right handed than ever and this discouraged assault fell into the arms of the police. At the hospital it was found the bullet had struck Smith squarely over the eye, but his skull deflected its course and it inflicted a long scalp wound.

Don't Worry Eat

Memphis, Tenn.—Mrs. Emma Looney, of this place, says: "I suffered misery for nearly eight years, but since taking Cardui, I am much stronger and I haven't missed a single meal. I hardly know how to express my gratitude. Don't worry about your symptoms—Cardui doesn't treat them. You need strength. Cardui helps you to get it. Take Cardui because other tonics and medicines do not contain peculiar and successful ingredients imported especially for its manufacture. Half a century of success has proved it. During this time, it has been used by millions of women. You need it. Try it, today."

McCarthy Wins Over Flynn in 16th; Puebloan Battered

Referee Awards Battle to New Hope After Fireman Is Helpless; Knockout Near

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 10.—Jim Flynn was eliminated from the white hope heavyweight class tonight at Vernon arena, when, after being knocked to the floor twice in the sixteenth round, and after the Puebloan came back after repeated smashes in preceding periods, the referee stopped the fight and awarded the battle to Luther McCarthy, of Missouri.

Flynn started his decline in the ninth round, when he was floored and took the count of nine, but recovered only to be knocked down twice, the gong saving him from a certain knockout. However, he gathered his strength for the next two rounds and McCarthy's slowing up saved him again.

In the sixteenth, the Pueblo fireman, puffed and bleeding, received numerous body and head smashes, yawning on the floor on two clean knockdowns, but recovered his feet. Seeing the battle hopeless, the referee separated the men.

Flynn took an awful beating, and never had a chance against the Missouri "white hope." Savage smashes on the jaw sent him down three times in the ninth round. At that time it seemed certain that he would go out, but his remarkable vitality, persisting after 12 years of ring battles, remained with him until the middle of the sixteenth. Then the referee, harkening to the vociferous cries of "Stop it," that had begun in the ninth round, raised McCarthy's right glove and proclaimed him the winner.

Down Twice in Sixteenth.

The end came when Flynn had gone down twice under the ponderous smashes of his youthful opponent.

The first time Flynn remained down nine seconds. He arose, staggering, and straight half-arm blows, the fluid of which could be heard throughout the crowded arena, sent him sprawling again for the finish. He got up, complaining, and denouncing. Even for professional McCarthy the winner.

As a result of his victory tonight, in addition to the purse, McCarthy will have Al Palmer in the Vernon ring for a "heavyweight championship" battle of 20 rounds, on New Year's day.

Unknown a few months ago, and but a glimmering "hope," even after he had disposed of Kaufman, he has placed himself in view of champion Jack Johnson's supposed elimination in direct line for the heavyweight title. He left the ring smiling, and virtually unmarked, declaring later that, while he never made predictions as to the outcome of fights, he did not believe Palmer was as fast as Flynn.

Flynn Sorry Spectacle.

Flynn was a pitiable spectacle as he dragged himself, with the assistance of his seconds, from the ring. His face was so puffed that he could hardly open his mouth, and great slits over his eyes oozed blood, despite the repeated application of colloid.

Flynn's chances of winning disappeared almost as soon as the men squared away for the first round. He came up with a rush in the third, but McCarthy stopped him with a single shot from the right hand, and McCarthy's nose and face were hurt.

Flynn's eyes it is in the fourth, rushing McCarthy repeatedly, and knocking him with an uppercut that knocked the Missouri's head. The fifth was a hammer and tongs affair, ending with a fierce maul in the center of the ring. In the sixth, Flynn staggered McCarthy with a left swing that sent him against the ropes.

Flynn Goes Down.

The seventh, fiercely contested, ended with Flynn showing strong signs of weariness. He went to his corner, and the succeeding round was tame. In the tenth, however, McCarthy landed a hard right to the jaw, hitting the victim down for the count of nine. Flynn arose groggy and went on, looking up the ring with a Missouri grin. He dropped Flynn for a second and third time, but the fireman made a remarkable rally and lasted out the round.

McCarthy tried hard to end it in the tenth, but Flynn showed strong repulsive powers and held his heavier opponent even. Fully battered, and missing blades, Flynn went through the eleventh, pecked repeatedly by the blows that McCarthy landed almost at will. It was the same in the twelfth, the fireman's stamina proving the wonder of the crowd.

Referee Stops Scrap.

Flynn kept boring in in the thirteenth, shaking his head under the onslaught of blows that McCarthy rained upon him puffed and bleeding. The next two rounds went the same way, the Missouri having his outbursts at his mercy, but lacking the driving power to stop him.

Flynn seemed almost helpless when, at the outset of the sixteenth, he was sent down for the count of nine, and, when a moment later a smash to the jaw dropped him for the second time, Referee Flynn stopped the fight, and declared McCarthy the winner.

ROBBINS WIN SECOND GAME

Through the high-class twirling of that Huber, the hunter for the Robbins, the fighters carried off another victory last night in the 1914-15 pennant race in the indoor baseball league, defeating the Powell-Doner aggregation by the score of 12 to 3. Menard was not in form, and although at times showed flashes of box form, did not make any of the advances of his opponent.

The Robbins have been handicapped by lack of practice, but show promise of leading as they now do. The P-D's have lost two games and the Robbins won two.

Early Rounds McCarthy's.

McCarthy continued to force the fighting in the second, and Flynn seemed unable to reach him effectively. Near the end of the round, Flynn was staggered by a series of rights and lefts to the face, and appeared groggy. He

SHOCKLEY TO LEAD TERRORS NEXT SEASON

BROWN AND WHITE CAPT. 1913.

Shockley, the planning rick, hit those work during the football season, but closed marks him as one of the best football players in the state as well as a great leader for the Brown and White next season.

Tom Shockley, the husky halfback of the Terrors, was elected captain for 1914 to succeed Theron Taylor, at a meeting of the players yesterday. The "C" men will receive large brown ruffian sweaters with white stripes around the left arm for every year they have played on the first team. They are: Capt. Taylor, A. Shockley, 2, Nifong, 2, Fowler, 2, Davis, 2, Walker, 1, Klemm, 2, Holman, 2, Worth, 2, Babcock, 2, Chubb, 1, Landrum, 1, Bille, 1, Richardson, 1, Tucker, 1, Kneels, 1.

These men will be guests of Coach Fair at a banquet in the near future.

CHANCE AND JONES POSSIBILITIES FOR HIGHLANDER BERTH

CHICAGO, Dec. 10.—Owners of clubs in the American league, who gathered here tonight to attend the annual meeting tomorrow, promised to introduce some startling news to the baseball public before the meeting adjourned.

The appointment of the manager of the New York club was expected to be announced. Frank Chance, former manager of the Chicago National League club, and Fielder Jones, who formerly piloted the Chicago club of the American league, were mentioned tonight among the possibilities for the position.

Everything promises to be peaceful throughout the meeting, which may last only one day, and may run until Friday.

About the only official business to come up will be the awarding of the 1912 pennant to the world champions, Boston club, and a statement of the league's finances.

The following club owners and club managers will attend: Charles Comiskey and James Callahan, Chicago; Conde Mack, Philadelphia; C. W. Somers and W. Barnard, Cleveland; Frank Navin and Thibkey Jennings, Detroit; Frank Farrell and Arthur Irwin, New York; James McAlen, Robert McRoy and Jake Stahl, Boston; Robert Hodges, St. Louis.

The Washington club will not be represented.

ATHLETICS LOSE $6,000 BECAUSE CUBANS COULDN'T DEFEAT THEM ON TRIP

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 10.—Connie Mack's Athletics returned the other day from their Cuban trip.

John Shibe, who managed the party, said that while it had been a splendid trip from a training standpoint and for the players' health, it was a financial failure. The reason was that the Cuban team was so good that the Athletics could not win.

LYNCH AGAIN HEADS NAT'L

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Thos. J. Lynch was re-elected president and John A. Hickey, secretary and treasurer of the National league, at the meeting of the league held today.

The present board of directors, which continued except that J. J. Sullivan of New York succeeded the late John T. Brush.

The selection of Messrs. Lynch and Hickey, the former for one year and the latter for three years, was unanimous. The league would not permit a rumor in vogue of discord to go on, contradicted, and the report that one club had opposed the reelection of President Lynch was denied.

Phillies Little Angels.

The reports of President Lynch and of the board of directors, were approved. President Lynch, in detailing the official history of the 1914 season, awarded the pennant for good behavior during the playing year to the Philadelphia team, which had a record of 101 wins and only one loss. Other things noted in the report were that 12,666 baseballs were used in the scheduled games, that 88 games were postponed, that there were 140 double headers, and 78 games on the schedule left unplayed. Of the six players against the result of games during the season, five were displaced, Chicago being the successful protestant, having the claim over a game with Pittsburgh sustained.

Umpires Not Scouts.

The league went on record as opposed to umpires acting as scouts, declaring such employment to be against the best interests of the game.

It was decided that in deciding players in the future, the name of the club shall be drawn first in accordance with a rule adopted by the national committee. The names of players have been drawn first on several occasions, it appeared, in violation of this rule.

Try Bresnahan Again.

The National league decided tonight to try the case involving the claim of Roger Bresnahan, deposed manager of the St. Louis club, for alleged breach of contract, at a special session of the board of directors, preliminary to the February meeting of the league.

The decision was reached at a meeting of the board of directors. The St. Louis club was directed to file within 30 days an answer to Bresnahan's complaint. An official copy of the complaint will be supplied forthwith to the St. Louis club.

The National league action in assuring Bresnahan a trial of his claim was taken after the former manager and President James F. Lane of the St. Louis club failed to reach an agreement as to what they should do about a third of odd arbitrator to sit with two men of the national committee.

The directors voted to raise the salary of Secretary Hickey and to continue for another year the pension of Harry Sullivan, the late manager of the Philadelphia club.

MAY PLAY DENVER IN INDOOR BASEBALL GAME

Arrangements probably will be made in the near future for a series of games between the indoor baseball teams of Colorado Springs and Denver.

Tommy Burkhardt, the well known Denver player, has written here for the names of the managers of the Springs teams. He says that he can arrange to stage games between the Colorado Springs team and the Denver Athletics club. Return games may be arranged for the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium here.

$6,000 LIMIT DECIDED FOR INTERNATIONAL CLUBS

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—The International League of Baseball clubs today decided on a salary limit of $6,000.

The league has signed Jack O'Leary, umpire of the Western league, and E. S. Gulgley, umpire of the New York State league, for the coming season.

BRILL CAPTAIN AGGIES

FORT COLLINS, Colo., Dec. 10.—"Dutch" Brill, star and tackle of the Aggie football team during the past season, and an all-star choice, was selected to lead the team on the eastern tour next year. Brill has graduated, but is taking postgraduate work, and is entitled to play another year, as he has only been in the game three years.

VAUDEVILLE

Vaudeville is an institution for the upkeep of pugilists and baseballers during the off season.

It is infested at intervals by regular actors, but only when said pugilists and baseballers are engaged at their respective trades.

Some men become vaudevillians by eluding a baseball over a fence at frequent intervals and some by hitting a ball over a plate in such manner as to nonplus opposing batters. But the easiest way is to smite a champion on the jaw hard enough to make him forget all worldly cares for a period of 10 seconds.

A champion on the vaudeville stage is amusing if one is easily amused and there is no other form of amusement in the vicinity.

Some baseball vaudevillians have even gone so far as to sing, but have escaped instant exile to the prohibitive price of eggs.

It is not to be thought that pugilists and baseball players are devoid of brains. They are not. They are simply not actors or play boys.

ELIMINATE SORE ARMS IS CALLAHAN'S TRAINING IDEA

By I. E. SANBORN.

Manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, who has been in the game for 10 years, has a training idea that is being tried out by the club.

The idea is to eliminate sore arms by using a special kind of glove or mitt. The glove is made of a special material and is supposed to be more comfortable than the ordinary glove.

They are wearing the glove for a week, and it is supposed to be more comfortable than the ordinary glove. The glove is made of a special material and is supposed to be more comfortable than the ordinary glove.

The hardest problem in the manager's training is to prevent the players from getting sore arms. The manager is trying to find a way to prevent this.

The manager is trying to find a way to prevent this. The manager is trying to find a way to prevent this. The manager is trying to find a way to prevent this.

Young Hurlers Victims.

Usually the young hurlers, ambitious to make a place on the team, are the victims, particularly the young pitchers, in spite of all admonitions that they should not get out on the slab and pitch to the old players, just to be good fellows.

They try to look cool, and in consequence, the old players are too much for them. The consequence is that when the time comes for the youngster to show the manager what he can do, he has a lame arm and can't deliver even if he is willing to try.

How many recruits, every spring, have been sent to the training camp, only to find that they are not good enough to be on the team. The manager is trying to find a way to prevent this.

TERRORS PLAY CREEK BIKE RECORDS ARE SMASHED AT FACES

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—With the 15 teams still intact and going strong, the six-day bicycle races at Madison Square Garden were an even series at 11 o'clock tonight, after 4 hours' grind. The evening had seen a number of remarkable sprints.

At 10 o'clock the riders were 19 miles and two laps ahead of the record, but a slowup left them 16 miles and six laps ahead of the record at 11 o'clock.

In the intervening sprints, the Pecos Grizzlies, Rudi-Foster and Krampe, Moran teams all figured. A large one, started by the Suter brothers of the same team, was exceptional. It was kept up for 10 minutes, with practically every rider within the lead and then losing it to another.

It looked as though the bike would be broken up, but the picture of a tire on Moran's wheel forced a end to the struggle.

The score at 11 o'clock was 377 miles and six laps, as compared with the best previous record of 351 miles, made by Brown and George in 1911.

The 12 o'clock midnight score was 388 miles, 9 laps. The 15 teams were still hunched with the Suter brothers leading. The best previous record for this time, the forty-eight hours, was 370 miles and nine laps, made by Van Houwert and Latta last year. At 12 o'clock the riders passed the 1,000-mile mark.

McFarland Is Real Anxious to Get at Champion Ritchie

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Patrick Sarsfield McFarland, known to pro bono public and all crowned Xheids as the real champion king of the "hit, stepin and getaway" stuff, has started in to fight with the lightweight crown, which at the present moment sits on the dome of Willie Ritchie.

To show that he is made of the right stuff, Packey isn't starting out with a blare and blast, telling the world that he can make Ritchie hop through a knothole, or wriggle his ear. None of that raw work for P. Sarsfield McFarland, Esq. Rather, he's there with the diplomatic salute, as the professional would call it, "Durham."

Packey is telling the boys what a fine youth Ritchie is and what a credit he is to the boxing game. That is strictly proper, for Ritchie is on the style of McFarland, which is a credit to any fighter. After P. Sarsfield finishes his encomiums he remarks off-hand and in a careless manner:

"I know Ritchie is satisfied that I have a legitimate claim to a match, and I look to him to give me a chance at the earliest opportunity. Ritchie has already gone on record that he will not insist upon 135 pounds ring-side, something which has killed many a good fighter."

Now, Packey is waiting to see the effect of his praise on the new champion and noting hard for it to work quickly.

The only difficulty in Packey meeting Ritchie is that the latter has released his code and now announces that he will struggle with 133 pounds ring-side, "but he is the best for all visitors that seek the jewel."

"I never felt better in my life than when I fought Volgaist," the champion asserts, "and under those conditions I had done an awfully light fight."

That, of course, is a Ritchie got a flash of Packey's soft words and decided to go into the ring with a lighter weight. The fight will be a real one.

There are several ways of looking at things.

MAKING A PITCHER OF ROCKEFELLER'S HEIR.

Left to right: Fowler-McCormick and Mordecai Brown. (CHICAGO, Dec. 10.)—Fowler-McCormick, the fourteen-year-old grandson of John D. Rockefeller, has taken up baseball with a vengeance, and has as a tutor Mordecai Brown, better known as "Three-Fingered," the famous star of the Chicago Cubs' twirling staff. It is rather a good baseball pitcher than anything else in the world, says young McCormick. The boy will be sent to Princeton by his father, Harold P. McCormick, whose earnest desire is to see his offspring humble Yale and Harvard on the diamond.

THORPE MAY BECOME 'PRO' HOCKEY PLAYER

TORONTO, Can., Dec. 10.—Negotiations are being conducted by the Tecumseh professional hockey team of this city with "Slim" Thorpe, star athlete of the Carlisle Indian school, which may result in Thorpe becoming a professional hockey player this season.

The management of the local team learned on good authority that Thorpe is a very efficient hockey player, and since there is a scarcity of good material, a communication was forwarded to the Indian.

It is reported that Thorpe will not turn professional unless he receives an "iron bound" contract calling for a handsome stipend.

When questioned, W. J. Billingham, president of the Tecumseh Hockey club, practically admitted that he was negotiating with Thorpe, but declined to enter into particulars.

CARL MORRIS WINS TOO

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Dec. 10.—Carl Morris of Oklahoma knocked out Bob Williams of New York in the third round of a fight scheduled to last eight rounds, here tonight. The third round lasted only 30 seconds. A punch to the stomach floored Williams for the count. Williams was knocked down a half dozen times.

DE LAITRE MINES CAPTAIN

GOLDEN, Colo., Dec. 10.—"Red" De Laitre, the hard-hitting tackle on the school of Mines eleven, was elected captain of the 1915 eleven upon the arrival of the squad from the coast yesterday. De Laitre has played two years at Golden, and has won a reputation as a consistent strong player.

The players had a great time on the coast and have few marks from their two victories. The team has disbanded for the year.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 10.—Connie Mack's Athletics returned the other day from their Cuban trip.

John Shibe, who managed the party, said that while it had been a splendid trip from a training standpoint and for the players' health, it was a financial failure. The reason was that the Cuban team was so good that the Athletics could not win.

Some men become vaudevillians by eluding a baseball over a fence at frequent intervals and some by hitting a ball over a plate in such manner as to nonplus opposing batters. But the easiest way is to smite a champion on the jaw hard enough to make him forget all worldly cares for a period of 10 seconds.

A champion on the vaudeville stage is amusing if one is easily amused and there is no other form of amusement in the vicinity.

Some baseball vaudevillians have even gone so far as to sing, but have escaped instant exile to the prohibitive price of eggs.

It is not to be thought that pugilists and baseball players are devoid of brains. They are not. They are simply not actors or play boys.

MUST GET BUSY
IT behooves Colorado Springs to be up and doing if this city is to secure its share of the tourist travel from the east and middle west to the Panama exposition in 1915. Denver is already in line with plans for a big Indian show, which undoubtedly will prevail upon many thousands to stop off in that city for a day or two on their way across the continent. It will never do for Colorado Springs to lag behind. The stake is too big. More people, by hundreds of thousands, will visit the west in 1915 than ever before. The attractions prepared for them will be so numerous that only the best and most novel will attract them. That is why Denver will go to an expense of many thousands of dollars in preparing a big show. Colorado Springs cannot compete with that show. But Colorado Springs doesn't have to. Colorado Springs, in her scenery, has an attraction with far greater "pull" than anything Denver can prepare. What Colorado Springs should do is not to try to compete with the various shows that will be offered in 1915; but to place so irresistibly before intending visitors the wonders of this region that no one will think of passing through Colorado without stopping here a few days at least. That means advertising, and lots of it. Advertising costs money. The business men of Colorado Springs, however, should be planning their campaign at once: first to raise the needed money, then to place it in such manner that the advertising will do the most good. In addition to advertising, would it be possible to secure, for that summer, special reduced transportation rates to a few of our many attractions, such as the Garden of the Gods and Manitou? To be able to advertise reduced rates, or, better, if possible, a free trip, would tremendously add to the appeal to stop off in Colorado Springs.

Certainly, in view of the activity of Denver and other cities, Colorado Springs must get busy at once.

ENGLAND'S PANAMA CONTENTION
OF COURSE, if the Hay-Pauncetote treaty said so in specific words, the United States could do nothing else than give English vessels the same preferential treatment in the matter of Panama canal tolls that it proposes to give to American vessels engaged in coast trade between American ports. But England does not contend that there is any such plain provision; England merely asserts that such is the interpretation to be placed upon the provisions of the treaty. The canal was built with American money. It is built on American property. The purpose of its construction was, in large measure, to force a reduction in transcontinental freight rates on American railroads. How, those being the facts, the late Secretary Hay, in drafting the treaty, could have been so blind, if England's contention is true, as to throw away the possibility of free tolls to American coastwise traffic, is something that no one acquainted with Mr. Hay's clear-headed statesmanship can understand. Certainly, as far as the mass of people are concerned, it is impossible for them to understand how free tolls for American coastwise traffic can in any wise injure British shipping, as long as English and American shipping otherwise is on an equality. And it is hard for the average man to understand, furthermore, why, as regards American trade, from one American port to another, carried in American ships, through an American canal, built on American soil, paid for and maintained with American money, America cannot impose such restrictions as she sees fit, without regard to England or any other nation. American opinion can never be brought to interpret the Hay-Pauncetote treaty as England would have it interpreted.

THE ONE PURE PATRIOT
SENATOR WORKS can see no good anywhere. The Progressive party is not to be thought of as an asylum for such as he, since it accepted money from George W. Perkins of the harvester trust. The Republican party is equally hopeless, since it has received contributions from practically every trust and corporation in existence. And Senator Works cannot turn to the Democracy. If it was wrong for Colonel Roosevelt to accept money from George W. Perkins, chairman of the finance committee of the International Harvester company, it was of course equally reprehensible for Governor Wilson to receive financial assistance, as he did, from Cyrus H. McCormick, president of the International Harvester company. And if the Progressive party stified irretrievably in accepting Perkins' contribution, the Democratic party was equally damned when it took money from George F. Baer, head of the anthracite coal trust.

Poor Senator Works can trust no man's honesty but his own. His party must be limited to his individual membership. He is the one honest man. All other statesmen, all political parties, are certain in some way or other to be allied with the powers that prey.

THE SPIRIT IS WEAK

LITTLE by little the Colorado supreme court has breathed life into the railroad commission bill, until now the act has enough power, if it were backed by men of intelligence and purpose, to effect the railroad reforms most urgently needed in Colorado. In the northern Colorado coal case the right of the commission to fix rates was established, and now the supreme court, in the Como case, has held that the commission has power to force a railroad to provide adequate service for passengers and freight.

Taken together, the two decisions give to the commission most of the powers needed. Those powers, it is true, are largely hedged about because of the fact that all decisions of the commission, on questions of fact as well as of law, may be appealed to the courts. But, at the same time, if the commission were composed of the right kind of men it could revolutionize railroad operation in Colorado. Unfortunately, however, the commission has been in years past a political refuge, and its members are probably intellectually incapable, even if willing, to perform the work that Colorado so sadly needs.

HOPEFUL

DEMOCRACY'S reported decision to go about the work of tariff revision schedule by schedule is a cheering indication that revision will be effected sanely. It would be impossible to put through congress a complete tariff revision bill. By means of schedule by schedule revision, however, the Democrats will be able to make a conservative revision.

They won't be able to revise any one schedule, probably, by means of Democratic votes alone. Their control of the senate is too precarious for that; there are too many protection Democrats there. But, by a schedule by schedule revision, conservative in tone, the Democrats will be able, in all probability, to secure enough Progressive and progressive Republican votes in the senate to pass any fair tariff revision measures.

STRANGELY UNRESPONSIVE

FOR some strange reason there hasn't been that hearty assent that might have been expected from Barnes and Penrose to the suggestion of Senator Cummins that what the Republican party needs in the way of reorganization pills is a reduction of southern representation, direct primaries, and other progressive reforms.

THE SCHOOL TROUBLE AT RAMAH

The article published in The Colorado Springs Gazette and copied by the Ramah Telegram, regarding the dismissal of Miss Nora D. Sparks, teacher at Prairie View school, to the effect that the school board dismissed her because she quit boarding at Moreland's place, is absolutely false and without any foundation whatever and was only given for publication to prejudice the minds of those who did not know better.

The school board had a just and sufficient cause to dismiss her, and every one in the district knows it. Her conduct in school was such that no sane person would wish to put up with it. The school board treated her with all courtesy, met at the school house to give her a trial under her own consent and under the consent of the county superintendent, and she would not hear to an investigation. She just simply challenged the board to do anything. The parents were taking their children out of school. There was not one at school the day of her dismissal. Prairie View school has always been a model school. There has never been the least bit of trouble in any way, and the teacher in control of the school now is just getting along fine. By the consent of the School Board, District 45, Ramah, Colo., Dec. 7, 1912.

FROM OTHER PENS

THE TARIFF—POLITICS, AND REVENUE.
From the Washington Star.
From the Washington Star.
The tariff revision shall be by the schedule-by-schedule plan, or by a general plan. It has not been decided as yet whether the work, after the form of operation has been agreed upon, shall be prosecuted by co-operation between house and senate as the work proceeds, or after the usual fashion, of the house going first and the senate taking up the subject after the house is through.

But this much is already certain: The bills which were passed and vetoed by Mr. Taft will not be sent to Mr. Wilson. He endorsed them in his campaign speeches, and, as all Democratic spellbinders were doing, censured Mr. Taft for his course, but he will not have opportunity to set his own hand and seal to them. His party friends in congress will see to that.

Why? Is not the question superfluous? The answer is, if answer is needed, that the bills were not intended to become laws. They were tariff bills for politics only. Their framers and sponsors knew that they would be vetoed. It was a game, and Mr. Underwood and his friends were leading for voters. The Republicans did not object. They were quite willing to go before the country on the ground that the Payne law unchanged. At that time the peril from the Progressive bid had not appeared. They were counting on another tussle with the Democrats on the issue of protection fairly and squarely presented, the Payne law affording the text.

But the bolt came, and it defeated them. The election figures show nothing else. Of course, the Progressives found fault with the law. But the Republicans, in a measure, concealed that it was not perfect, and would be amended if they won. Mr. Taft had specified wool, and other schedules would have been overhauled. But Progressives and Republicans alike were standing up for protection, and as Mr. Wilson was elected by a minority vote, the policy of a tariff for revenue only did not carry the country.

The political play, then, is for the present, played out. Beginning March 4, Democratic control will be complete. In the White House will sit a man who, if a theorist on the tariff, must yet meet a condition. On Capitol Hill will meet a body whose majority, though divided on the subject, must get together and revise the Payne law. Never mind if the Republicans in the house under Mr. Mamm's rising leadership, and those in the senate under Mr. Smoot's talk about consistency, and mention the tariff of the sweet in politics. Business is business, and the Democratic majority must do business, even under a sailing fire of reminiscences and partisan playfulness.

Being Satisfied With One's Self

By RUTH CAMERON.
"Well she certainly seems pretty well satisfied with herself."

How often one hears the above or some similar remark made as a criticism, and yet when you come to think of it, how few of us there are who are not pretty well satisfied with ourselves.

You think that's an exaggerated statement? You know a great many people who are always bawling their defects and who seem very far from satisfied with themselves? True, my friend, but believe me, if you could see into the secret chamber at the bottom of their hearts, you would probably find that after all they think themselves pretty superior people. Perhaps they may not have even admitted to themselves that they hold such an opinion. Most of us seldom visit that secret chamber in the bottom of our heart where absolute truth lives, and where we come face to face with our real selves. And so we often fool ourselves into believing that we are better than we are, and underneath all the surface humbug, despite this bawling of their defects, I believe that the average person is pretty well satisfied with himself.

Now, mind you, I don't mean that a person with a hideous nose or a very bad temper or an abnormally slow moving mind isn't perfectly genuine when he bawls that defect. No doubt he is, but I think he usually feels that his other superior qualities so far outweigh it that he is a pretty good sort of a person after all. How some people never can hear of other folk's superiority in any line without trying to bring the conversation around to the line in which they can claim superiority. "Well anyway, I bet she can't make any better cake than I can" is the way one woman often justifies her sense of her own superiority when she hears of other women's accomplishments.

Of course, we should not confuse the foolish dissatisfaction with our lot which is so common with that divine discontent with ourselves which is so rare. "To be satisfied with your possessions but not contented with yourself until you have made the best of them" is a beautiful ideal, but the average man sadly reverses this in practice. Isn't it strange when you think what a bundle of faults and imperfections used together with a few virtues and a talent or two, the most of us are, that we should be able to have this serene belief in our own value? And yet when you think how much more fortunate we are than the most altruistic of our own countrymen, are the only things which really count very much, isn't it lucky?

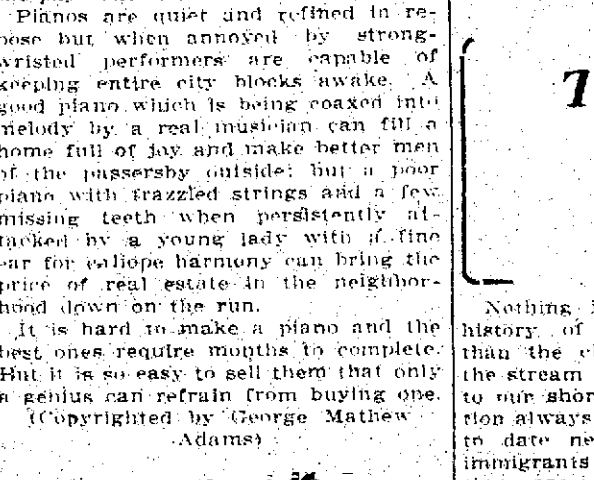

PIANOS
By GEORGE FITCH,
Author of "At Good Old Siwash"
The piano was once the parlor mark of prosperity in the American home. It advertised the fact that the owner had more money than he needed or knew how to spend and had passed above the cabinet organ stage of society. People used to begin saving for pianos when they were married and get them in time for their grown-up daughters to practice for the debutante of a village who had a piano was more admitted than the citizen who now owns an automobile and it cost him just as much for the distinction because all the musical entertainments have been given at his home. Pianos have now become as common as ball tube and mission furniture and the man who owns one has no reason to be proud and stiff. A piano is now considered as necessary as a front porch and even more necessary than a baby and is the greatest American postponer of prosperity—for every young couple has to buy a piano before they can begin to put money in the bank. Pianos have become common because they are now easy to buy. Anyone can buy a piano by paying $1 down and $1 a week until Bryan is elected. Pianos cost the average family $52 a year through life, for by the time they have finished paying for the first piano it doesn't match the woodwork of the new house and has necessitating the payment of $1 down for a new one. Pianos are quiet and refined in response but when annoyed by strong-willed performers are capable of keeping entire city blocks awake. A good piano which is being coaxed into melody by a real musician can fill a home full of joy and make better men of the passersby outside, but a poor piano with frazzled strings and a few missing teeth when persistently attacked by a young lady with a fine ear for callopo harmony can bring the price of real estate in the neighborhood down on the run.

"Young lady with a fine ear for callopo harmony."

It is hard to make a piano and the best ones require months to complete. But it is so easy to sell them that only a genius can refrain from buying one. Copyrighted by George Mathew Adams.

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT PIANOS

From the Philadelphia North American.
Have you ever thought, when playing some melodious sonata upon your piano, that the instrument at its disposal, is the perfection of centuries of invention. In the beginning it was a harp-shaped piece of wood, having two or three strings. From time to time more strings were added until the cithara was invented. This was an instrument in the shape of a capital P, with 10 strings stretched across the open frame. Many centuries afterward musicians conceived the idea of stretching strings across an open box. About the year 1200 this was done, the dulcimer made its appearance, and the strings were struck with hammers.

For another hundred years or so these hammers were held in the hands of the player, and then some genius invented a keyboard, which, being struck by the fingers, caused the hammers to strike the strings. This was called a clavichord, or keyed cithara, and from time to time it was modified and improved. During Queen Elizabeth's time it was called a virginal, and then a spinnet, because the hammers were covered with the skins of quills, which struck and caught the strings and produced the sound.

During the period between 1700 and 1800 it was much improved and enlarged, and was given the name of harpsichord. It was in 1710 that Bartholomew Cristofori, an Italian, invented a keyboard similar to the harpsichord, which causes the hammers to strike the wires from above, and thus developed the piano. During the last century the inventive genius of musicians the world over has revised and improved it until it has reached the present-day perfection.

A wireless station has been built near New York that is expected to have direct connection with a similar station near Berlin when the latter is finished.

THE HASKIN LETTER

IMMIGRATION

II—THE "OLD" IMMIGRANT

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

Nothing is more significant in the history of immigration to America than the change in the character of the stream of humanity that is coming to our shores. The bulk of immigration always has come from Europe, for the date of the coming of the first immigrants arriving have come from that one continent. Prior to 1883 nineteen-twentieths of all our immigrants from Europe came from the United Kingdom, Germany, Scandinavia, the Netherlands, Belgium, France and Switzerland. As recently as 1883, only a little more than one-eighth of the European immigration came from eastern and southern Europe. Today, the immigration from that section has grown until it embraces more than four-fifths of all those who come. Meanwhile the countries which gave us our rich influx of homebuilders prior to 1883 are not sending us many immigrants today.

The old immigration differed from the new in many essentials. The former was largely a migration of people who came to become citizens, to acquire homes here, and to establish their posterity upon the land. They entered practically every line of activity in every part of the country. A large proportion of them were engaged in agriculture before they came, and they went out as farm laborers when they got here. But they were rugged and the laborer of yesterday became the farmer of today. They formed a very important factor in the development of all the territory west of the Allegheny mountains. So rapid was the process of assimilation that the racial identity of their children was almost lost and forgotten.

The extent of the decline of immigration from northern Europe is emphasized by the results in various countries. Germany gave us eight times as many immigrants in 1883 as in 1911. Ireland gave us 76,000 of her people in 1883 and only 29,000 in 1911. Sweden's contribution to our immigration population fell from 84,000 in 1883 to 29,000 in 1911, and Switzerland's from 10,000 to 3,500.

Many Come to Stay.
As stated before, the people who come from northwestern Europe come to stay. Among them only 10 out of every 100 go back to their homes in Europe, while 90 out of every 100 from southern and eastern Europe return. The "old" immigration comes with its families, for more than two-fifths are females. The "new" immigration leaves the women folk behind, for only a little more than one-fourth of the arrivals are females. The better condition of the immigrant from northwestern Europe as compared with his more unfortunate brother in other parts of the continent is revealed by the money they were able to show. The average "old" immigrant can exhibit $40 to the immigration inspector. The average "new" immigrant has about $18 when he lands. The educational advantages of the "old" immigrant are even more marked. There are more than 13 times as many illiterates coming to us from the "new" immigration as from the "old." The "old" immigration measured up to all the usual tests of good citizenship in about the same ratio when compared with the "new." And yet all authorities agree that in the "new" immigrant we have, as a rule, a diamond in the rough, a human being who is just as capable of transformation into a good citizen as his more fortunate brother from northwestern Europe. The process is simply a longer and more tedious one and one to which the immigrant does not lend himself as readily. Northwestern Europe has responded

It may easily be transformed into the bill of fare in such quantities as to serve as the chief source of nitrogenous food and may be made a substitute for other nitrogenous foods when such substitution is desired. The results of these studies have been brought together with a view to making them helpful to all interested in the subject, but particularly to housekeepers.

The Housekeeper's View.

From the standpoint of the housekeeper, cheese is of importance because of its high nutritive value, particularly its high percentage of protein or muscle-forming materials because of the ease with which it can be kept and prepared for the table and because of its appetizing flavor and of the great variety of ways in which it can be served.

From the point of view of nutrition, cheese is an important commodity. The latest census figures available show that considerably over 300,000,000 pounds are made yearly in the United States, the value of the product being nearly $20,000,000, and the amount of money invested being over $8,000,000. The figures quoted are from the census report which first separated the details of the cheese industry from those of the butter and condensed milk industries. From earlier statistics available, however, it is fair to judge in a general way the development of any one of these industries from the figures given for the three industries combined. In general, these figures show that there was a great leap forward in the three industries in the decade between the years 1880 and 1890 and that since that time there has been a continuous, steady, healthy growth in the business of cheese making.

As might be expected, the amount of the product and the amount of money invested have increased more rapidly than the number of men employed, indicating that, as in most manufacturing industries, labor-saving devices and other improvements have reduced the proportion of physical labor required.

As regards the kind of cheese made in the United States, the figures show that of any one of these industries, the remainder being American modifications of certain important foreign brands, Neufchatel, Camembert and others.

The Dealer's View.

From the standpoint of the retail dealer, cheese is important because it is a convenient article to handle, its percentage of nutrients being high and its percentage of water low, if it is not bulky. It is comparatively easy to preserve in good condition. The difficulty of cutting exact amounts called for by customers may be considered the chief inconvenience. Efforts have been made to obviate this difficulty by making small cheeses. Experiments have been reported from PUBLIC AUCTION of household goods and furniture, at 509 Cheyenne road, today, at 10 a. m. Adv.

CHEESE AND ITS ECONOMIC USES IN THE DIET

Cheese is believed to be the oldest of the dairy products and the first form in which milk was preserved for future use. One may conjecture that it owes its origin to the accidental storing and ripening of sour milk curd. Although it has been a staple food with many races for uncounted years, there is a widespread belief that it is suitable for use chiefly in small quantities as an accessory to the diet, and that in large quantities it is likely to produce physiological disturbances. We are inclined, therefore, to think of those who made cheese one of the chief articles of their diet as being driven to this course by necessity, rather than being led to it by choice.

Because of these opinions extensive studies have been carried on as a part of the department nutrition investigations; of the food value, thoroughness of digestibility, ease of digestion, physiological effect, and special character of cheese as food as well as of methods which are followed in preparing it for the table. The conclusion drawn from this extended study is, in brief, that cheese properly prepared and used is not generally a cause of physiological disturbances, and that High to Russian throne, whose life was despatched for some time recently. He is reported to be much improved now.

The Oregon Experiment station on the raising of cheese in pound lots, and from the Wisconsin Experiment station in making cheese prints like those in which butter is commonly sold. In some of the factories cheese weighing about 150 pounds and having the same shape as the large cheeses are made. These are convenient for use in families where a large amount of cheese is eaten, and furthermore cheese in such form dries out and spoils less quickly and easily than cheese cut in wedge shaped slices as it usually is when sold by the pound.

The sale of cheese in pots is another way of overcoming the difficulty of cutting exact amounts. Cheese thus prepared is, as a rule, softened by the addition of butter fat or other fat, with the idea of making it of such consistency that it can be used like soft cheese.

There is something to be said also of the value of cheese to that not inconsiderable number of individuals who must occasionally enter to themselves, those men and women in business life, for example, who find it convenient neither to leave lunches nor to go to restaurants. For these "house" offers a convenient way of supplying the necessary protein, for it can usually be obtained in good condition in any neighborhood. Combined with crackers some of the ready cooked cereals, or bread, and with fruit, it makes a fairly well balanced meal.

PRETTY WOMEN AND THE STAGE

from an interview with Maxine Elliott, by Albert Dyer in the Cosmopolitan Magazine.

"The successful actresses are not the pretty women. It is very rare indeed to find success in mere beauty. Name the successful stars who are very beautiful. You can't."

"When I first appeared I had the ill luck to be announced as a beauty."

"Good gracious, what a misfortune! You wrote I remember it. Miss Maxine Elliott had little to do. It was fortunate. Don't you realize that a beauty on the stage creates a sense of disappointment unless she does something? If she does nothing—which is usually the case—she is voted a stick."

Primarily because she is beautiful, and you have been watching her. "It is a curious thing about the stage. Nobody knows much about it except the actors—the hard-working actors. Nearly everything written about the stage is fiction. It reads well, but it is untrue. You talk so glibly about these matters, of which you know nothing. For instance, you talk of my 'charm' and you think that settles it. I am a success because I have charm. Oh, don't you know better? Don't you know that to get charm over the foot-lights is acting? What you call being natural on the stage is not the same as being natural off the stage. One has to learn from experience and a
